ABOUT SAUDI ARABIA:

The World's Upcoming Industrial Powerhouse

With a GDP exceeding $833 billion, the Kingdom of Saudi Arabia holds one of the world's largest economies. With a steady annual growth rate of 3.73%, the country was ranked as the world's fastest-growing major economy in 2022, surpassing India.

With about 28% of the Arab GDP, KSA is indisputably the most significant free market economy in the Middle East and Arab world. The healthy, growing domestic market consists of young consumers with strong purchasing power that drives economic diversification activities.

KSA offers access to over 400 million consumers within the MENA region, backed by its long-held membership and active participation in the GCC and the Greater Arab Free Trade Area.

In alignment with KSA's 2030 Vision, the National Industrial Development and Logistics Program (NIDLP) aims to transform Saudi Arabia into an industrial powerhouse and a global logistics hub. They plan to unleash the 4th Industrial Revolution (4IR) by maximizing the value of the mining and energy sectors. By fostering an attractive investment environment, this program is one of the main contributors to the Kingdom's economic diversification toward sustainable growth.

Another important initiative of Saudi Arabia's Vision 2030 is the National Industrial Strategy which promotes industrial development, attracting investment in the Kingdom's economy and encouraging the growth of non-oil products and exports.

The Saudi government's ambitious industrial plans aim to raise the industrial sector's contribution to GDP to $240 billion. The strategy will also attract new industrial investment opportunities worth one trillion riyals ($266 billion).

Since the launch of the 2030 Vision, the number of industrial factories in the Kingdom has increased by around %50. The National Industrial Strategy aims to further increase the number of facilities to approximately 36,000 by 2035.

The total volume of investment in the Saudi industrial sector up to 2022 amounted to SR1.41 trillion, while the total number of factories reached 10,742.

Regarded as one the most influential countries in the world, KSA is a member of the G20, whose members represent around %85 of the global GDP, over %75 of the worldwide trade, and about two-thirds of the world population.

The value of Saudi Arabia's annual textile imports is $7.32B, ranking the country as the world's 25th largest importer of textiles. Textile products are the 6th most imported product in KSA.

Saudi Arabia exported $677M worth of textiles, making it the world's 66th largest exporter. Textile products are the 11th most exported in Saudi Arabia.
